For fixing the wireless issue with lenovo try these steps too-

1. just reset the wireless adapter go to device manager and check the wireless driver
2. try updating the wireless driver and uncheck the power management from wireless adapter option
- 3.if nothing works just uninstall and remove the old wireless driver and settings and download the latest drivers . check the firewall settings and make sure nothing is blocking the internet .

It there a little switch or button to turn them on ?

Also you may need to install the most recent drivers for WiFi and Bluetooth
